England, much as she loves and desires peace, most wage was from a peaking article, says:

The fourteenth amendment of the constitution | would live at the mercy of a inture Black Sea squad-expressly provides as follows:— The validity of the public debt of the United States authorized by law including debts incurred mor any State shall assume or pay any debt or abligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any sinve, but all such desired seems to give up all hope that a general such the loss or emancipation of any sinve, but all such one can see the end of the complications.

The New York Tribune, of No anys he means to stay in this cone can see the end of the complications. the loss or emancipation of any slave, but all such debts, obligations and claims shall be held illegal

The amendment has been repeatedly approved and agreed to by democratic State conventions of the South. It was unutimously adopted as a part of the platform of the Democratic National Convention at St. Louis, on the 28th of June, and was declared by that platform to be "universaily accepted as a final settlement of the controversies that engendered civil var.

My own position on this subject had been previously declared on many occasions, and par ticularly in my first annual message of January

In that document I stated that the Southern people were "bound by the thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth constitutional amendments; that they had joined at national conventions in the mation of candidates and in the declaration of principles and purposes, which form an authentic acceptance of the results of the war, embodied in the last three amendments to the organic law of the federal Union, and that they had, by the suffrages of all their voters, at the last national election, completed the proof that now they only seek to share with us, and to maintain the common rights of American local self-government, in a fraternal union, under the old flag with " one stitution and one destiny."

I declared at the same time :- The question settled by the war are never to be reopened. The adoption of the thirteenth, fourteenth and filreenth amendments to the federal constitution cheerd one great era to our politics. It marked the end forever of the system of human slavery and of the strucgles that grew out of that system. These amendments have been conclusively adopted, and they have been accepted in good faith by all political organizations and the people of all sections. They close the chapter; they are and most be final; all parties bereafter most accept and stand upon them, and henceforth our politics are to turn upon questions of the present and the future, and not upon those of the settled and final

Should I be elected President the provisions of the fourteenth amendment will, so far as depends on me, be maintained, executed and enforced in perfect and absolute good faith. No rebel debt will be assumed or paid. No claim for the less or emancipation of any slave will be allowed. No claim for any loss or damage incurred by disloyal persons arising from the late wif, whether covered by the fourteenth amendment or not, will be recognized or paid. The danger to the national Treasury is not from claims of persons who aided the rebellion, but from claims of persons residing in the Southern States or having property in those States who were, or pretended to be, or who for the sake of aiding claims now pretend to have been loyal to the government of the Union. Such cisims, even of loyal persons, where they are from acts caused from the operations of war, have been disowned by the public law of civilized nations, condemned by the adjudications of the Supreme Court of the United States and only find any status by force of specific legislation of Congress. These claims have become stale and are often tainted with fraud. They are nearly always owned in whole or in part by claim agents. by speculators or lobbyists, who have no equity
